Eldercare Professionals of Ohio

is a networking group specializing in bringing together professionals in the fields of aging, senior living and caregiving. Our meetings are casual, yet informative.

After a light breakfast, one of our members gives a short presentation about their facility, programs or products. Each member then introduces themselves and provides a brief synopsis about what they do, who their ideal client is and what they can offer our group.

After the meeting we encourage members to meet or talk to at least 3 new people.

Where will she go next? Could home health care allow her to live at home? Would a reverse mortgage help pay expenses?

At a typical meeting we might learn about:

- Choosing a home health care service
- Medicare/medicaid requirements for purchasing a motorized wheelchair
- Sleep disorders
- Reverse mortgages - how they can provide a steady stream of income
- Trust options and estate planning
- Programs for memory improvement
- Adult day care services
- Resources for caregivers

Membership Advantages

Joining Eldercare Professionals of Ohio ($75/Year) provides many marketing and networking benefits.

- The yearly membership includes contact information and links to your website from our website - www.EldercareOfOhio.com - and our sister blog - <http://EldercareInsider.blogspot.com>.
- Kelsey Loushin, Director of Eldercare Professionals of Ohio, and the members of Eldercare Professionals of Ohio actively refer fellow members to their wide range of contacts.
- Members have an opportunity to promote their products or services at our meetings. Many members have also obtained speaking engagements in the community through referrals from fellow Eldercare Professionals members.

Who are we?

Eldercare Professionals of Ohio is a geriatric care management company specializing in resource and referral services for professionals seeking health and welfare information for adults 55 and older.

The company is best known for its monthly networking meeting for professionals in the field of aging. Referrals within the group are abundant.

Because many older adults require comprehensive care, it is important for the professionals serving them to have information and access to a wide range of elder-specific services and care options.

Eldercare Professionals of Ohio meetings provide the opportunity for eldercare professionals to expand their knowledge of programs, services, products and facilities serving the needs of older adults.

You have questions - our members have answers.
